Copy of information included in original owner notice:

This notice is sent to you in accordance with the requirements of the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act.

Volvo Trucks North America has decided that a defect which relates to motor vehicle safety exists in certain Volvo vehicles manufactured with a TRW sealed (i.e. non-greasable) drag-link.

SAFETY DEFECT: Certain factors can exist, which if left untreated may result in a ball socket separation.

SAFETY RISK: Ball socket separation at the drag link results in complete loss of steering and therefore can result in a vehicle crash.

PRECAUTIONS YOU CAN TAKE: Volvo strongly recommends that you inspect the ball socket for any damage to the rubber sealing boot or looseness as prescribed in the enclosed Inspection and Replacement Criteria for Drag Links. Daily and periodic inspection is required as stated in the enclosed procedure, as well as the Commercial Motor Vehicle Safety Alliance's Out-of-Service Criteria and Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration's requirements. This is a requirement for all commercial motor vehicles regardless of the type of drag link, and therefore is not unique to this recall.

TIME REQUIRED FOR THE REPAIR: The labor time required to inspect and repair your vehicle if required is approximately one hour.

WHAT YOU SHOULD DO: You should contact the nearest Volvo Parts and Service Center and make an appointment. The drag link will be inspected and replaced if required. All Volvo Parts and Service Centers have been sent a bulletin covering all the details required to perform the safety recall.

You can locate the closest Volvo Parts and Service Center by going on line to <http://www.volvo.com/trucks/na/en-us/dealers/> and selecting "Dealer Locator" or by calling our toll-free number: (800) 528-6586.
