Vinnie Venugopal, General Manager Vehicle Safety and Compliance Liaison Office Toyota Motor Engineering and Manufacturing North America, Inc. 19001 S. Western Ave. - Mail Stop: S-104 Torrance, CA 90501 NVS-212mjl PE12-002

Dear Mr. Venugopal:

This letter is to inform you that the Office of Defects Investigation (ODI) of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) has opened a Preliminary Evaluation (PE12-002) to investigate allegations of fire in the driver's door in model year (MY) 2007 Toyota RAV4 and Camry vehicles. This letter requests certain information from Toyota Motor Engineering and Manufacturing North America, Inc.

This office has received 11 Vehicle Owner's Questionnaire (VOQ) reports on MY 2007 Toyota RAV4 and Camry vehicles that allege fire occurring in the driver's door and it appears the fires originated from the power window master switch. An electronic image of each VOQ report has been e-mailed to your office. A list of the reference number of each report is shown at the end of this letter. Note that for the purposes of this letter, the term "fire" has the same meaning as found in 49 CFR 579.4.

Unless otherwise stated in the text, the following definitions apply to these information requests:

- Subject vehicles: All MY 2007 Toyota RAV4 and Camry vehicles, including Camry hybrid and Solara, manufactured for sale or lease in the United States; and all other U.S. Toyota model/model year vehicles equipped with power window master switch assemblies identical in design as those installed in MY 2007 RAV4 or Camry vehicles.
- Subject component: Electrical components of the power window system located within the driver door panel. This includes, but is not limited to, switches, relays, control modules, associated wiring, wiring harnesses, connectors, and other such system components.
- Toyota: Toyota Motor Engineering and Manufacturing North America, Inc., Toyota Motor North America, Inc., and Toyota Motor Corporation, all of its past and present officers and employees, whether assigned to its principal offices or any of its field or other locations, including all of their divisions, subsidiaries (whether or not incorporated) and affiliated enterprises and all of their headquarters, regional, zone and other offices and their employees, and all agents, contractors, consultants, attorneys and law firms and other persons engaged directly or indirectly (e.g., employee of a consultant) by or under the control of Toyota (including all business units and persons previously referred to), who are or, in or after 2002, were involved in any way with any of the following related to the alleged defect in the subject vehicles:

- a. Design, engineering, analysis, modification or production (e.g., quality control);
- b. Testing, assessment or evaluation;
- c. Consideration, or recognition of potential or actual defects, reporting, record-keeping and information management, (e.g., complaints, field reports, warranty information, part sales), analysis, claims, or lawsuits; or
- d. Communication to, from or intended for zone representatives, fleets, dealers, or other field locations, including but not limited to people who have the capacity to obtain information from dealers.
- Alleged defect: Any failure, malfunction or other condition of the subject components that results in, or could result in, a fire and/or thermal event as defined in 49 CFR 579.4.
- Document: "Document(s)" is used in the broadest sense of the word and shall mean all original written, printed, typed, recorded, or graphic matter whatsoever, however produced or reproduced, of every kind, nature, and description, and all non-identical copies of both sides thereof, including, but not limited to, papers, letters, memoranda, correspondence, communications, electronic mail (e-mail) messages (existing in hard copy and/or in electronic storage), faxes, mailgrams, telegrams, cables, telex messages, notes, annotations, working papers, drafts, minutes, records, audio and video recordings, data, databases, other information bases, summaries, charts, tables, graphics, other visual displays, photographs, statements, interviews, opinions, reports, newspaper articles, studies, analyses, evaluations, interpretations, contracts, agreements, jottings, agendas, bulletins, notices, announcements, instructions, blueprints, drawings, as-builts, changes, manuals, publications, work schedules, journals, statistical data, desk, portable and computer calendars, appointment books, diaries, travel reports, lists, tabulations, computer printouts, data processing program libraries, data processing inputs and outputs, microfilms, microfiches, statements for services, resolutions, financial statements, governmental records, business records, personnel records, work orders, pleadings, discovery in any form, affidavits, motions, responses to discovery, all transcripts, administrative filings and all mechanical, magnetic, photographic and electronic records or recordings of any kind, including any storage media associated with computers, including, but not limited to, information on hard drives, floppy disks, backup tapes, and zip drives, electronic communications, including but not limited to, the Internet and shall include any drafts or revisions pertaining to any of the foregoing, all other things similar to any of the foregoing, however denominated by Toyota, any other data compilations from which information can be obtained, translated if necessary, into a usable form and any other documents. For purposes of this request, any document, which contains any note, comment, addition, deletion, insertion, annotation, or otherwise comprises a nonidentical copy of another document, shall be treated as a separate document subject to production. In all cases where original and any non-identical copies are not available, "document(s)" also means any identical copies of the original and all non-identical copies thereof. Any document, record, graph, chart, film or photograph originally produced in color must be provided in color. Furnish all documents whether verified by Toyota or not. In order for my staff to evaluate the alleged defect, certain information is required. Pursuant to 49 U.S.C. § 30166, please provide numbered responses to the following information requests. Insofar as Toyota has previously provided a document to ODI, Toyota may produce it again or identify the document, the document submission to ODI in which it was included and the precise location in that submission where the document is located. When documents are produced, the documents shall be produced in an identified, organized manner that corresponds with the organization of this information request letter (including all individual requests and subparts). When documents are produced and the documents would not, standing alone, be self-explanatory, the production of documents shall be supplemented and accompanied by explanation.

Please repeat the applicable request verbatim above each response. After Toyota's response to each request, identify the source of the information and indicate the last date the information was gathered.

- 5. State, by model and model year, a total count for all of the following categories of claims, collectively, that have been paid by Toyota to date that relate to, or may relate to, the alleged defect in the subject vehicles including all claims for repairs of the subject components: warranty claims; extended warranty claims; claims for good will services that were provided; field, zone, or similar adjustments and reimbursements; and warranty claims or repairs made in accordance with a procedure specified in a technical service bulletin (TSB) or customer satisfaction campaign. - 6. Describe in detail the search criteria used by Toyota to identify the claims identified in response to Request No. 5, including the labor operations, problem codes, part numbers and any other pertinent parameters used. Provide lists of all labor operations, labor operation descriptions, problem codes, and problem code descriptions applicable to the alleged defect in the subject vehicles. State, by model and model year, the terms of the new vehicle warranty coverage offered by Toyota on the subject vehicles (i.e., the number of months and mileage for which coverage is provided and the vehicle systems that are covered). Describe any extended warranty coverage option(s) that Toyota offered for the subject vehicles, and state by model and model year, the number of vehicles that are covered under each such extended warranty.
- 7. Produce copies of all service, warranty, and other documents that relate to, or may relate to, the alleged defect in the subject vehicles, that Toyota has issued to any dealers, regional or zone offices, field offices, fleet purchasers, or other entities. Organize the documents chronologically by action. If an action is not complete, provide a detailed schedule for the work to be done, tentative findings and/or conclusions, and provide an update within 10 days of completion of the action.

- 9. Describe all modifications or changes made by or on behalf of Toyota (e.g., by a supplier) in the design, material composition, manufacture, quality control, supply, or installation of the subject components, from the start of production to the end of production of the subject vehicles, which relate to, or may relate to, the alleged defect in the subject vehicles. Identify any kits that Toyota has released or developed for use in service repairs to the subject components or assembly.

For each subject component part number, provide the supplier's name, address, and point of contact used by Toyota (name, title, and telephone number). Also, identify by make, model and model year, any other vehicles of which Toyota is aware that contain the identical component, whether installed in production or in service, and state the applicable dates of production or service usage.

By letters dated August 18, 2009 and October 21, 2009, Toyota notified NHTSA of two foreign recall campaigns of the power window master switches in various Toyota vehicles sold in China and Japan, including MY 2007 Camry vehicles sold in China. Toyota stated in the letters that the switches can short circuit which can lead to overheating and melting of the component. State whether the power window master switches in the foreign recalled vehicles are identical or different in design than the subject vehicles' switches, and explain why Toyota did not recall the subject vehicles. Your response should include, but is not limited to, a list of the suppliers/locations that manufactured the switches by make, model and model year of the foreign recalled vehicles and subject vehicles.
